

Top Women CEOs Get Paid More On Avg, But Head Few Big Firms

With a $58.5-million pay package in 2019, Advanced Micro Devices CEO Lisa Su became the first woman to top a list of highest paid CEOs, since it was first published in 2011. Su's compensation in 2018 was $13.4 million. The majority of her 2019 pay came in the form of a one-time performance-based stock award. Among the 329 executives surveyed, 20 were women, just one more than the previous year. Top female bosses earned a median pay of $13.9 million, compared to $12.3 million for the male counterparts

Source: Equilar; the study considers CEOs who served in that role at an S&P 500 co for the last two years and filed proxy statements before April 30, 2020

TIMES BUSINESS

THE TIMES OF INDIA, BENGALURU | TUESDAY, DECEMBER 22, 2020

